HUNDREDS ATTEND ANNUAL SUDBURY CANADA DAYS

Beautiful week end weather and a wide variety of activities made a good combination to bring hundreds to the fourth annual Sudbury Canada Days sponsored by the Bethel Historical Society with activities centered on the grounds of the Moses Mason Museum over the week end. Events focused on "old-time pastimes" and included many favorites, Sudbury Canada was the original name of Bethel and the annual event is held each August as the Society's summer heritage festival.

Activities commenced on Saturday with the annual children's parade on the Common under the general supervision of DeeDee Kellogg. The theme this year was "Heroes and Heroines" and was judged in four categories by Maxine Brown, Consuelo Alger and Donald Eddy. Winners included: "Prettiest" — first, "Betsy Ross" portrayed by Sara Brown; second, "Jane Addams," Leah Bonnema; third, "Florence Nightingale," Sarah Coolidge. "Most Authentic" — "Paul Revere," first, Jessica Coolidge; second, "Amelia Earheart," Kate Nickerson, third, "Jane Adams," Leah Bonnema. "Funniest" — continued on Page Four

Selectmen Complete Busy Summer Schedule
Meeting in special session on Thursday, Aug. 11, and in regular session Monday evening, Aug. 15, in the Town Office Meeting Room, the Board of Selectmen acted on a variety of agenda items, completing its summer meeting schedule. Commencing Sept. 6, the Selectmen will return to regular twice-monthly meetings with meetings on the first and third Mondays.

The Board, on Thursday, granted an off-premises catering permit to the Rumford American Legion to serve alcoholic beverages on Neil Olson's property in East Bethel, for Trappers' Day, Aug. 27 and 28. After a public hearing Monday, where no public comments were voiced, the Selectmen voted to renew the liquor license permit application for Brian and Sandra Strickland d/b/a the "R.F. D. #1 Restaurant".

At Thursday's meeting the Town Treasurer presented an analysis of cash management information, comparing present cash flows with predicted trends if the Town were to change its fiscal year to July 1 to June 30 and have twice yearly tax billing. The Treasurer predicted taxpayers could save as much as $16,000 a year through reduced borrowing costs.

Having completed Thursday an on-site survey of proposed street-light changes, the Board approved the changes except: (a) Lovers Lane fixture on CMP pole #08 was retained until that road is upgraded by the State DOT; (b) Mill Hill fixture on CMP pole #9 adjacent to the bridge will be upgraded to a 5800L/83W High Pressure Sodium fixture and retained; and (c) A 5800L/83W HPS fixture will be placed on the curve of Songo Pond Road (one mile south of the Mill Hill intersection). Also approved were lighting upgrade efforts in the Steam Mill along Route 2. About 12 old fashioned

We have had a pair of staying around for several days. They look just like the prairie falcon in my 'Birds of North America,' but since they are in Southern California I could believe that was what these Margaret Tibbets thinks from description that they may be pigeon hawk or something similar.

We never know when we will see them again. I was out in the morning what the will bring. Take Monday for instance, I never would have guessed that David Preble and I would be called upon to be witnesses a wedding on the Common, but were. Robert came from Massachusetts; Susan came from Washington; they are working in Montana and got married in Montana. Wright officiated.

— Evelline B. Vatcher, Corres. —

We have had a grand and glorious week. A good mixture of weather and Joe Vatcher did finally find a cucumber on the vines and he also picked some nice sugar and gold corn, so we forgot the bread and potatoes for a couple of meals, and we didn't miss them.

The flea market was a grand event and we were busy Saturday all day and Sunday morning, so we closed up the show at 3 p. m. and retired to watch the ball game. Evelline baked two apple pies Sunday morning and a couple from Long Island, N. Y., sampled one then bought two more pieces to take to their camp for their supper. They loved it here in the peace and quiet and would like to live here the whole year. We had home baked beans, hot rolls, cakes, and brownies for dinner for those who rented a table. We enjoyed the sociability as well as making a few dollars.

Callers at the Lawrences were: Roland Lord, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Wing, Bryant Pond; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vatcher and niece's husband, Cleon Finkham, Colorado Springs, Colo. Mr. Finkham also called on the Vachers but they were out for the day.

Warren Abbott was reported to be a patient at Stephens Memorial Hospital with a bad blood clot and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Thelma Abbott is also a patient at the same hospital. Let's send them a card of cheer. This is a bad time for Warren to be "cooped" up as apple picking is at hand. His son Duane and his wife Susan know the ropes, so they will hold the fort. Our best wishes to both of them.

Sent in by Viva Whitman:

What a beautiful day Monday turned out to be! We were hoping it would be that way, as Russell, Peggy and I wanted to go visit an old friend, Rachel Silver, who lives near Manchester, N. H. She worked at the Hillsboro Club in Pompano Beach Fla., the first year I did. I believe that was her last year there, but she had worked there for a number of years before. It's always fun to visit a special friend like her, and especially when you haven't seen them for two years, as in this case. We had a lovely ride and a wonderful time visiting with her.

The day was clear and though rather warm, a day to enjoy. However as we got near home, we could see that there had been a storm as the roads were wet and we saw a tree down in a place or two. When we got home, some of the dahlias were broken off and the corn, potatoes and other vegetables looked rather well blown. We heard that the storm was a windy one but didn't last long. Guess that was good or there might have been more damage than there was.

Peggy went to town on Tuesday for some repairs on her car and Russell brought his home from having the paint fixed up. If you have a car, there is always something that needs fixing.

Of course the berries needed picking so Peggy and Joe helped Laura to get them picked, as she was to have that batch of them. I kept busy around the house with other things.

Peggy's grandson, Jim, came bright and early Wednesday morning to help her with a little work before we had to head for Erebung for doctor's appointments. In the afternoon, Edwrick Yates came down to help with some work that Russell couldn't do. Edwrick mowed grass for Russell and Peggy helping, got a lot done.

Thursday was another day to see a doctor for me. My fibrositis has been acting up, so went to Farmington to see the rheumatologist. Peggy drove me over, while Russell took his car to town to have a little work done on it. Peggy and I stopped at the Chicken Coop for lunch in Mexico on the way home. Later in the afternoon, Edwrick came again and finished mowing what grass needed it for the time being.

What a nice rain we got on Friday! We sure needed it too, but Russell said the string beans wouldn't wait, so picked what there were for us to can. Every jar of goodies canned, makes that much less we will have to buy, and as Russell says, at least you know what goes into the jars. I went to town to do a few errands and also did a little cooking. Have to keep busy and earn my keep if I can.

Saturday morning, Peggy decorated a couple cakes for me. One for my granddaughters christening on Sunday and the other for my daughters birthday which comes on Monday. She does a beautiful job decorating.

Had to get things cooking for our Past Master's Grange night also. I had invited quite a few visitors to take the offices for that evening, and we always try to have plenty to eat, but with so few of us to cook, we do double duty some times. Anyway, all is well that ends well, and that's what happened. We had a total of 36 people there and only had two from our own Grange fill officers chairs. I was very pleased and a personal thanks to all who came to help by being officers or help-on the program. I think all enjoyed the evening, or at least I hope they did.

Sunday, my granddaughter was to be christened, so went to Norway Center Church for the service. My daughter, Wynona, played the piano and organ in that Church for several years when younger, so I was glad she picked that Church to have Courtney christened in. Bill Felmeth, who has been associated with that Church for many, many years, performed the service. It was good to see many of my old friends, as well as Rev. Bill Felmeth and Rev. Richard Moore. It was a lovely service and I really enjoyed it. All the friends who came for the special christening service, had a picnic lunch there at the church.

In the evening, Peggy went to West Bethel where she picked blackberries. Also, Laura and Bernard Hutchins of East Andover made a dooryard call. They have some corn planted here and wanted to see how it was doing. The corn is tall. Russell said he hoped they kept within calling distance of one another or they might get lost. I haven't seen sweet corn grow any taller than ours has.

Work still continues on the little red house that was moved up here by the corner of the cross road. It has taken a lot of dirt to fill in around it, but it looks better all the time. It takes a lot of work to get a house ready to live in even if it is all built and moved as that one was. It's an added attraction on the Sunday River road, anyway.

Don't care for these real cool nights. I don't care what they stand for. However, I don't know as there is anything one can do about it, so better get ready and accept the inevitable. Have a good week everyone!

est" — first, "Popeye," Victoria Coolidge; second, "Paul Revere," Jessica Coolidge; third, "Davy Crockett," Jeremy Brown, "Judge's Choice" — "Paul Revere," first, Jessica Coolidge; "Florence Nightingale," second, Sara Coolidge, and "Amelia Earhart," Kate Nickerson. These prizes and those for all children's games were provided by a generous donation from Society Board Chairman Margaret Joy Tibbitts.

A wide variety of children's games under the general supervision of Gail Sysko were featured throughout Saturday afternoon including hoop jumping, arm wrestling, basketball, sack races, chuck a farthing, and toe stick throw. Winners in the various categories included Mike McAllister, Tyrel Bartholomew, Katrina McNeal, Amy Hamon, Misty Hutchins, Leah Bonnem, Shye Buck, Alec Gillies and Jake Bartholomew. Assisting Mrs. Sysko with the children's games were Maryvonne Wheeler and Brenda Bartholomew. An ice cream eating contest for children under the supervision of Tony Fugle was also held Saturday afternoon and was won by Tyrel Bartholomew.

The annual flower show organized by Barbara Herrick Brown, Gertrude Hutchins, Sudie Vachon, Danna Nickerson, Margaret Joy Tibbitts and Barbara Douglas was a spectacular success with something over 75 entries placed throughout the Moses Mason Museum. The combination of antique setting, varied bouquets and noteworthy containers all combined to make this one of the most popular features of the week end.

A historical film series included a wide variety of heritage films under the supervision of Randall H. Bennett.

Craft demonstrations and exhibits were especially varied this year and included Alden and Ed Kennett, wood joinery, shake splitting and wood peg production; Albert Skillings, Bill Skillings and Tim Korhonen, blacksmithing; woodworking, Bob Grover; spinning, Jane Grover; wool processing and dyeing, Phebe Hardesty and others from New Gloucester; Shaker wares, New Gloucester; Audrey Brooke, floor stenciling; Hope Tibbitts, dyed apple dolls; Florence Hastings, hooking; Ruth Wright, quilting; Edith Eddy, needlepoint; Grace Buck, knut weaving.

The horseshoe tournament on the lawn of L. Gen. and Mrs. James D. Alger was won by Larry Davis of Bethel (singles), and Larry Davis and Art Henley (doubles). This activity was under the general supervision of Barton Keniston and Dick Hosterman. Croquet competition was lively with Betsy Raymond of Bethel as the winner.

A Farewell to E.T.

Mrs. Tracy Honored by T.A.P. Group at Aug. 11 Luncheon

How many children in Maine can truthfully say they've seen E.T. nearly every day of the 1982-83 school year? For one short year, children at Bethel's Crescent Park and Ethel Bisbee Elementary Schools could because of her initials, Eleanor Tracy, principal of those two schools during the past year, had been affectionately dubbed "E.T." by the children and staff. Though not the extra-terrestrial being of movie fame, Mrs. Eleanor Tracy nevertheless made numerous new friends in the Bethel area, and earned the respect and admiration of many people who quickly recognized the value of this very capable administrator. As she begins a new post as principal of Oxford Hills Junior High School in South Paris, her home town, Mrs. Tracy will be leaving behind many sad faces in S.A.D. 44.

In an effort to show their appreciation for all she has done this past year, the Teachers and Parents group (T.A.P.) hosted a farewell luncheon at the Sudbury Inn in Bethel on Thursday, Aug. 11. Mrs. Tracy was presented with a Shaker-style footstool "to rest her weary feet on after a long day's work." Though an attempt was made to thank the principal for her contributions, she quickly turned the tables away from herself and instead expressed gratitude to all the staff, and community volunteers who pulled together with her so well as a team to make this a productive and enjoyable year.

The media in recent months has been emphasizing the necessity of striving for EXCELLENCE in education, not merely settling for mediocrity. It is this goal which Mrs. Tracy had set for herself and her staff, a goal that was obviously ever-present in her mind—not just used as a theme for a school bulletin board. Every aspect of her school day, (which often ran from sun-up until long after sundown), was geared toward achieving that goal. If there was an area that needed improvement,

COLE REUNION

The 71st annual reunion of the descendants of Virgil and Eliza Tufts Cole was held Sunday, Aug. 14, at the home of Richard and Carolyn Davidson, North Windham. There were 60 present: the oldest was Mrs. Sadie D'Aiutola, and the youngest, Robin Palmer of Andover. A buffet meal of baked beans, casseroles, salads, rolls, and desserts was served at noon. After dinner the business meeting was conducted by the president, Leroy Jodrey, of Canton.

Attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Cole, Mrs. Sadie D'Aiutola, Vernon Redding, David Cole, Penny Cressey, of Sumner; Mr. and Mrs. Toni Cockran, Cumberland; Earl Cole and Earl Jr., Michael and Tracy, Portland; Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Jodrey and family.

Jane Hosterman and Walter Scott served as Judges. Trophies in the adult competition were generously provided by L. Gen. and Mrs. Alger once again this year.

Badminton was also featured under the general supervision of Bill and Terri Judson. This competition was won by Shilo Hutchins.

Helen Morton again this year supervised the art show held on the lawn of Ned Hastings' across Mason Street from the Moses Mason Museum.

Saturday evening featured the Log Driver's Bean Supper under the general supervision of the Special Projects Committee headed by Carolyn Brooks. Assisting with the supper attended by more than ever before were Emily Saunders, Edna York, Mary Keniston, Sylvia Wright and Helen Morton. Special credit goes to Norris Brown for once again baking the beans.

Following the bean supper Donald Bennett, Society President, served as master of ceremonies for the variety show. The door prize was awarded by Sarah Goss, Bethel. Entertainment included a wide variety of talents including Don Katlin, guitar and vocal accompanist; Ned Hastings and Frank Flint, piano and song singing; Jeff Hastings, drums, and Alva Morrison, fiddle.

The crafts, film series, flower show, and art show continued on Sunday afternoon. An old fashioned church service was featured at the West Parish Congregational Church Sunday morning and an old-time revival service was held in the afternoon at the Middle Intervale Meeting house, the town's oldest surviving meeting house.

The Society is grateful to all who contributed food, time and talent to make this year's summer festival the best yet.

Letters to the Editor

August 14, 1983

Dear Residents of S.A.D. 44: Thank you for your help and support during my six years as an administrator in S.A.D. 44. Community support is important in a small school district, not just tax support, but occasional words of praise, encouragement, and appreciation. Throughout my years in S.A.D. 44, your words of support and thanks, often offered in stores or on street corners, have been greatly appreciated.

The people who work for you in the public schools, the custodians, cooks, bus drivers, secretaries, teachers, and administrators—need to hear your words of praise, encouragement, and support. You have an excellent school system in S.A.D. 44. Do not let one of your most valuable resources—your youth—go undeveloped. Keep your public schools strong, and keep your school staff secure and satisfied.

Thank you, again, for your help during my years with the school district, and good luck to you all in the future.

Wayne F. Gersen

To the Editor:
I am looking for information on the life and death of Miss Annie Allender Gould (1887-1900), a Congregational missionary from Bethel, who was killed at Pao-fu-fu, China, in the Boxer uprising of 1900. She was the daughter of Deacon John Mead Gould and Amelia Jenkins Twitchell Gould. She was posted to China in 1893 and with a colleague, Mary Morrill, ran a girl's boarding school and preached the Gospel in the surrounding area until her death at the hands of the Boxers.

I am particularly interested in any letters from Miss Gould to friends or family or any letters from fellow missionaries recounting details of her death.

MIDDLE INTERVALE MEETING HOUSE SOCIETY ACTIVITIES

The next meeting of the Middle Intervale Meeting House Society scheduled for Tuesday evening, Aug. 23, at 6:30 will be highlighted by a guest speaker.

After a short business meeting, the floor will be turned over to Dr. Stanley Howe, Director of the Bethel Historical Society. The Meeting House is located in one of the richest historical areas of the town of Bethel and Dr. Howe has done extensive research on the subject. Did you know that there was a cheese factory, a leather shop, a potash factory, etc., located here? And did you know that the land adjoining the Meeting House was one of Bethel's first commons and was used for millia encampments? There are so many interesting facts and stories associated with this area and everyone is invited to come down and become informed of Bethel's heritage.

In conjunction with Sudbury Canada Days last week end, the Meeting House Society participated with a food sale and an Old Time Revival Service. Both activities were very successful. Many thanks to all who were so generous with their food donations and contributions.

Safety Tip of the Week

The summer is almost over. But please don't make the last fling of the summer your last fling ever. So many accidents are caused by carelessness. The summer traffic is heavy right now, so a little caution on the road is a good idea. When climbing ladders on the home improvement projects, have someone steady the ladder at the bottom as extra protection, which looks an oval, gilded mirror next to the hand carved hat-rack—posing above this, a moth eaten mounted buck's head with a rack of 12 points (the eyes stare you glassily down with much dignity). This particular game was shot by Uncle Amos—nearly a century ago—upon this very spot—when the whole area was but a virgin forest.

And so it goes—what will the next generation of super salesmen be auctioning off—our plastic hula-hoops our plastic dental cups our plastic monogrammed key rings our plastic Reagan Buttons—our plastic Christmas trees? Who knows?

For in this plastic world we live in, you better save it, for someday, someone may need it, say in the year 2000 to help himself put a loaf of dehydrated bread in his solar oven. Till next time then? C'est la Vie!

Mrs. Rachel DeCoster and friend, Mrs. Lena Grouleau of Canton were last week's visitors at the home of Nancy Corriveau. Mr. and Mrs. Denis Corriveau entertained Mr. and Mrs. Norman Albert and Vickie of Gorham, N.

North Waterford— Mrs. Jo Sanderson, Cor. —

Stone-Start Legion #82, Norway, gathered at the home of Jo Sanderson for the annual picnic. There was a good attendance including the acting state Chaplain, Carolyn Brooks and husband, Dana of Bethel. They all seemed to enjoy the day very much.

It is hard to believe that so many fall flowers are along the roadsides at this time.

I heard this remark not long ago, "A flower is a flower." True to a certain extent but they are individuals to me as people are. Each is different. I came from the garden where I had gathered a few carrots. Then I saw the wild carrot or Queen Ann's Lace by the roadside. They are beautiful adding much to the appearance of roadsides and fields, where they grow so abundantly. As times goes on the blossoms begin to have a careworn look and lose something of the sobriety aspect which won them the title of Queen Ann's Lace. Somewhat later the flower stalks erect themselves, forming a contave cluster which are the appearance of a bird's nest. I read that a species of bee makes use of this ready-made home, but in my travels and observations I have noticed the "nest" but never any indication of such an occupancy. When first introduced into Great Britain is not known, although the supposition is that it was brought over by the Dutch during the reign of Elizabeth. One writer stated that the carrot leaves were worn by ladies in their hair in place of feathers. Can you picture the dejected appearance of a ball-room belle at the close of an entertainment?

I walked slowly along and watched a kingbird launch from a popular tree with his alert aggressive cry, hoping to capture some buzzing insect.

It was a day when the sky was clear and clean and the field crickets fiddled in the tall grass. It was a day that one should take time to see, feel, and sense the good world with its hills of strength, bold horizons, and wide spans of nature.

Lilac shadows of noonday drifted above and a breeze wandered by. I loved the silver light on the pond and the purple and snow of every summer cloud. It was a delight to be tramping along after a busy time of work and to breathe deeply the challenging clean air.

There was the splash of a muskrat just off "the rocks" as we call that special place.

Suddenly from among the weeds huge wings lifted and spread, as a bluish shadow born on a breath of wind vanished up pond, a blue heron with "catch".

At my left I discovered in the tall grass the white turtle-head. The flowers are more odd than pretty and their name suits them. Then I saw two beautiful, unpecked, the small, purple fringed orchids. How delicate and sweet they were and I hope hidden enough to be safe from picking.

NOTES FROM

Evans Notch

White Mountain National Forest

Five contracts are out for bid on the Evans Notch Ranger District of the White Mountain National Forest. The trail maintenance contract (Basin Trail) will be awarded Aug. 24. The contract for replacement of the Great Brook Road culvert will be awarded Aug. 25. On Aug. 26, the contract for painting the Gilead Depot building will be awarded. The office cleaning contract will be awarded on Sept. 3. The contract for residing and reroofing the Bald-face Shelter will be awarded sometime the second week in September. Interested contractors are asked to call or write for information about these opportunities.

The Great Brook Road in Shirley Valley remains closed to the public use due to the narrow and unsafe roadway at a washed-out culvert. As was indicated above, the contract for repairing the culvert will be awarded shortly. Once the work is completed the road will be reopened until the fall mud season.

The Brickett Place, located on the Evans Notch Highway at Cold River, has been listed on the National Register of Historic Places. This is the first listing of a historic property on the White Mountain National Forest. Plans are underway for further publicity and stabilization work of this fine example of the 19th century farmstead.

The dam at Basin Pond is in need of repairs. The gate controlling water flow has malfunctioned and erosion caused by spring ice-out has taken place at the base of the dam. Both items have been scheduled for repair.

The rains of the past few weeks have diminished the fire danger; however visitors are reminded to be careful with their campfires and extinguish them when leaving the area.

In the organizing of the Health Center it was determined that the best interests of the area would be served by providing "appointment" service rather than a "walk-in" clinic, in order to cut down on waiting room hours—except, of course, in emergencies or urgent

MEMORIES OF GWENDOLYN STEARNS

Gwen Stearns' quick mind and vivacity attracted people all her long life. I enjoyed a close friendship with her the past 33 years (she and her family were my parents' friends).

I was away when news of her passing came. Now that I know, a flood of memories return which make it seem impossible that I shall never see her again. Even though she did not welcome the physical changes of old age, she was courageous through many difficult times, and somehow though she was aging, I always saw the striking brunette, who loved to wear the vivid colors she enjoyed painting with. She never lost her vibrancy. All my visits to her over the years found her eagerly waiting news of her loved Bethel. She savored the past and old friends, but lived with interest in the present, and often her comments were amused about the changes in young people's ways, and such changes interested her rather than upsetting her, too often, as they tend to many elderly.

A devoted daughter and sister, she had dedicated her life to her family and her students, when teaching. She often asked me about her old Bethel pupils. Now and then I passed along her messages and lively comments to people for whom she inquired. I regret her loved students missed the enrichment she could have offered them in their adult years, and, especially, sad she did not know the joy of visits from them.

Luckily, her years in Augusta, necessitated by care of her brother as long as he lived, brought her many new friends, among them some young adults who maintained contact with her, enjoying her warm interest and her counsel at times.

As long as possible she worked actively in the Unitarian church. She enjoyed the Humane and Audubon societies and supported the work of the Augusta Humane Society with intense interest. She loved animals and birds. I recall best a beautiful black cat named Smidgeon, a sketch of whom often accompanied her notes to me, and a really amazing Disney character like squirrel mother who lived in her yard for years, about whose babies Gwen and brother Karl worried until trained by their alert mother to care for themselves. This squirrel often greeted visitors with calls that brought Gwen to the door, and then the Squirrel hovered with interest, like a family member, not afraid but interested! Of course tasty hand outs always awaited these pets.

She loved flowers. Everywhere she lived there were flowers and plants even though by necessity gardens grew smaller. I will not forget how eagerly she drew me to the windows on my first visit to her last apartment, right after she moved in. Immediately at age 90 upon renting this small apartment she came with bulbs and seeds to create small plots she could see from living and bedroom windows.

A fine conversationalist, she listened eagerly to others. Thoughtful and compassionate in her physically able years, she did much for people. This included for a number of years before leaving Bethel visiting each Thursday evening, my parents, to read to my blind mother, the Bethel Citizen and the daily papers then accumulated, while her brother played cribbage with my father. Such thoughtfulness is quite rare!

She read avidly the best books, until her own brown eyes began to fail. She loved to discuss what she read, and became very excited over politics and watching candidates on TV.

An art teacher she always sketched and painted. It was her custom to make personal the many cards and letters she wrote, by decorating with appropriate sketches—in lively colors, and sometimes a clever verse. I just took out about a hundred of these and went through them. A poignant experience! They remain as lively and charming as she did herself for almost all her life, for until the past year she remained able to walk to the grocery store, and take rides with friends and do her housework. She took very good care of herself always. She was sensible of good nutrition and even though after her throat surgery some years ago, she could taste nothing, she continued to prepare meals to keep her well, and welcomed invitations to eat out, as she enjoyed "eating by sight if not by taste" as she often said.

She had a very long life and sometimes a far from easy one, but it was borne with real courage, and of her I could not ever have a picture of an aging, complaining person, but rather the image of a very attractive intellectually stimulating person. I am the richer as are many others for having the gift of her friendship.
